Adrian is a skilled and knowledgeable intellectual property paralegal with over a decade of dedicated service at St. Onge Steward Johnston & Reens. From his early beginnings as a summer intern, Adrian demonstrated unwavering commitment, continuous growth, and a genuine interest in the intricacies of intellectual property work. Throughout the years, Adrian diligently cultivated expertise in trademarks, copyrights, customs, and domains, handling complex matters independently and collaborating effectively with attorneys and senior paralegals.

Adrian specializes in foreign trademarks, taking on crucial responsibilities such as renewals, assignments, and maintenance. Additionally, he manages the domain name registrations, renewals, and transfers for all firm clients. His proficiency also extends to overseeing customs registrations, renewals, and maintenance procedures, along with providing assistance in copyright work. With his knowledge of international affairs, Adrian efficiently coordinates with foreign agents on trademark, customs, domain, and assignment matters.

Adrian originally obtained a Legal Assistant Associate Degree at Norwalk Community College, followed by a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science at Sacred Heart University.
